

Scout O'Rama 2020

Helps on a successful booth experience

- Determine a theme. Booths that offer rank advancements and opportunities to start a merit badge are very successful. Cooking booths with samples attract a hungry crowd, and games that have visitors lined up to play.
- Get everyone involved. Let the Scouts learn by involving them in the planning. Good ideas can come from Unit parents and adult leaders, but let the Scouts have the final vote.
- Make it attractive and alive. Use color banners, drawings, photos etc. to draw the crowd in closer, to participate and learn more. This will let your Scouts explain or demonstrate what is going on in your booth. A youth run booth is best.
- Provide literature or samples. Everyone likes to take something home. If appropriate, offer free samples of the work being demonstrated or literature on your subject.

* All booths are operated by Scouts, adult volunteer leaders. All booths are open to attendees and no monetary exchanges are allowed.

 If cooking with charcoal, used coals must be packed out.
