STOREFRONT SALES GUIDELINES

GENERAL

The following guidelines were created using information published by the Center for Disease Control (CDC) and US Food & Drug Administration (FDA). These protocols have been established for any unit selling product at or near a retail establishment:

- Product will be distributed by unit for any specific storefront sale shift. Inventory is not taken from family inventory checked out from unit kernel.
- Unit kernel provides clear communication of protocols to unit volunteers and families.
- Have families make appointments for pickup of inventory from unit inventory to avoid contamination. Families picking up from unit storage should be wearing personal protection equipment (PPE).
- Designate a specific pickup area where your product is stored.

PROCESS/SET-UP

- One adult checks in with vendor.
- Use pictures/poster or ONE sample of each product for display. These same specific containers should be used for all shifts. Cover samples with clear plastic. Use a second table in front of the display to provide separation of customers from displayed items.
- Enable social distancing. Establish lines or marking for patrons to enable them to stand at least 6' apart.
- Accommodate seniors and those with disabilities.
- Hand sanitizer (minimum 60% alcohol) available onsite for volunteers and customers.
- Product for store front and wagon sales come from unit inventory, not 'kits' given to the scouts.
- Stay a minimum of 6ft from entry, using pop-up tents for coverage. If Scouts are allowed into the vestibule, they must be able to maintain 6' social distancing.
- Preferably only consumer touches product by pulling from case. If the unit must pull, ensure hand sanitizer is used often. (minimum 60% alcohol)
- One adult handles all cash wearing gloves and using hand sanitizer often.
- Sanitize table/chairs etc.: at each shift change and as necessary throughout the shift.
- Usage of– PPE for adults and youth at storefront sales; hand sanitizer (minimum 60% alcohol), face masks, face sneeze shields. Avoid touching eyes, nose, mouth with unwashed hands. Practice good respiratory etiquette – cover your cough.

HEALTH

- Temperature checks taken by adult and reported to unit to be entered in log. Temperature should be taken for all unit/family member that will be onsite.
- If the Scout or family member is feeling ill the family should contact their unit leader and relinquish their shift.
